Scott Kelly to Discuss Patent Developments at Virginia Intellectual Property Legal Institute

October 4, 2019

Banner Witcoff attorney Scott M. Kelly will speak at the 20th Annual Virginia Intellectual Property Legal Institute on Oct. 4 in Fairfax, Virginia.

Scott will lead a session about patent developments and will discuss patentable subject matter, prior art, cease-and-desist letters, time bars in IPRS, and PTAB reviews.

Now in its 20th year, the Virginia Intellectual Property Legal Institute provides attendees with updates on important legal developments in IP law over the past year. The day-long program is designed for attorneys practicing in the fields of intellectual property, technology, computer and Internet law, outsourcing, e-commerce, and software licensing, development, distribution, and procurement.

Click here for more information or to register.